

“Yes, I disagree with Adams about double cosets. Then again the colourful stories about him that came out after he died seemed to me to indicate that I disagreed with him about a number of things (for example the merits of attacking people with axes).”

— Kevin Buzzard (MathOverflow comment)

The Trivial Notions Seminar
Proudly Announces

Logic and Applications

A talk by
Dexter Chua

Abstract

I will present some theorems in logic by Gödel, and give some applications inside and outside of logic, including a theorem of Grothendieck. Axes will (hopefully) not be involved.

Friday, November 9th, at 1:00 pm
Science Center 530